

Before your next supplier negotiation,

let RTi help you improve your PacIQ

RTi partners with your team to enhance your corrugate procurement strategy. Running competitive RFPs and changing specifications isn't at the heart of what we do. Through our proprietary engineer-based cost models, we are able to provide our clients with accurate target pricing. Remarkably, 80% of RTi clients achieved savings with no change in current supplier or material specifications.

RTi provides you market intelligence and tools to empower your procurement team, all while working behind the scenes, invisible to your supplier base.

Our knowledge and expertise become your profit by reducing the price you pay. We empower your team to achieve both immediate and long-term savings. Discover why the most highly skilled and experienced procurement people in the industry rely on RTi.
