THERE'S POWER IN THE Partnership

OMNIA Partners, Public Sector is the largest and most experienced cooperative purchasing organization dedicated to public sector procurement. Shaping the future of procurement through power, access and trust.

PSX is the systems firm that partners with clients whose needs are often unaddressed by the mass market, giving them products and support needed to protect their organizations and interests. Our model should always serve and strengthen both partners, develop the skills of the individuals involved, and ultimately elevate the industry. Since 1969, our mission has been to demonstrate that a small, family-owned company can be built into a global influence by adhering to the universal values of integrity and accountability.

SYSTEM INTEGRATION

Delivers Value

PSX designs integrated security systems that deliver maximum value and best performance for your site. Systems integrators take diverse components and make sure that they work together. As system integrators, PSX looks at the big picture, works with you to determine your needs, and then selects the best products to meet your requirements from our wide selection of manufacturers. This approach often means bringing together components from different suppliers to create a single system.

Our integrated systems approach gives us the ability - and flexibility - to design and deliver a custom solution that works for you
