Equipment Replacement

Do you know the right time and the best equipment to use when replacing a piece of your HVAC system?

Knowing your options for your HVAC equipment for the highest efficiency over the lifetime of the system and building can be a challenge. Turn to your Daikin Building Solutions Sales Professional to guide you in making the choice of when, whether to repair and what options are available to replace so that you achieve better outcomes for your building, its occupants, and your budget.

Our HVAC experts will conduct a Daikin-designed assessment of your existing equipment and lifetime analysis, detailing efficiency options, building uses, and costs for operations, replacement and preventive maintenance services.

You can count on coming out of the assessment with a financial comparison of alternatives to ensure you are completely informed to make the best decision for your business. Our HVAC professionals will give you a deeper understanding of the latest developments and technology for your specific need for building energy, comfort, and IAQ -performance.

No matter the type of building you manage, our Daikin Building Solutions Professional will help you with your decision. We will recommend the best fit for your specific building.

We will partner with you to give you an assessment of your existing equipment to gain:

- Financial comparison of all alternatives.*
- Deeper understanding of the latest developments and technologies available.*
- Guidance on the best option for your specific project and budget.*
