Who is your competition in the marketplace?

Brighton Cromwell competes exclusively in the federal marketplace. Providing similar products and services in the federal marketplace we typically compete with companies like SupplyCore, Lockheed Martin, and SAIC.

What differentiates your company from competitors?

Brighton Cromwell sets itself apart from our competitors with its diversification of its company; allocating equal resources to IT, Engineering, Logistics and Customer Service.

AS9120B | ISO 9001:2015 CERTIFIED

Our IT group has spent the last ten years developing our back office purchasing system, SEDNASearch, automating many aspects of the procurement cycle from sourcing and RFQ'ing to Invoicing and payment. This enables the staff to focus their time on servicing the customer rather than processing administrative work.

In addition to SEDNASearch, the Brighton Cromwell IT team also developed our online ordering portal, GovBuy. This platform can support fast and effective procurement efforts, delivering supplies from a customer specific catalog. Using best of breed technology, an established supply chain capable of delivering over 1,000,000 needed parts overnight, localized sourcing, web-enabled supplier identification, ordering, tracking, and auditing, the GovBuy platform delivers unmatched capability and effectiveness by simplifying the entire procurement process.

Brighton Cromwell's Technical Center in Lutz, FL houses our Engineering staff. To date the majority of work performed by our engineers has been focused on reducing the cost of high volume parts consumed by their customers. This is done by reverse engineering targeted products while qualifying them as the same form fit and function, then offering that new product to all our customers. These efforts have resulted in tens of millions of dollars in saving for our largest customer the Defense Logistics Agency (DLA).

The Logistics group, which includes our Quality Assurance personnel, focuses on getting the right part to the right customer at the right time. Their primary responsibility is managing all inbound and out bound shipments. This process is applied both to shipments that will be received, packaged in a kit or in accordance with Military Specifications as well as shipments that are drop shipped from our supplier to the ultimate end user. Their processes and procedures start at the RFQ stage and are present throughout the entire procurement process.

The customer service group sole responsibility is to act as the single point of contact and advocate for their respective account. By freeing up their time to focus exclusively on the customer and their needs, the Customer Service Representatives can work closely with their customer to solve all their part needs. Additionally, Brighton Cromwell's experience with both military vehicle manufacturers and commercial auto, truck and transportation equipment manufacturers provide Brighton Cromwell with a wide variety of parts sources both OEM and aftermarket parts providing all their customer with cost savings options.

Describe how your company will market this contract if awarded.

The company will utilize internet marketing and social media to promote the Heavy Equipment, Diesel Truck, Bus Parts and Related Goods and Services NCPA contract. Electronic forums and mediums such as localized Twitter, Facebook, and similar social media outlets will also be utilized.

AS9120B | ISO 9001:2015 CERTIFIED

Brighton Cromwell will also employ an email marketing campaign to target specific regions and states. Our subscription to GovWin (a Deltek platform) gives the company access to contact information to thousands of local and state ordering activities. This will allow the company to target specific municipalities or an entire region.

Further, Brighton Cromwell will also include an announcement on the landing page for their website with a link for the NCPA website.

Describe how you intend to introduce NCPA to your company.

Within five days of award Brighton Cromwell will hold an all employees meeting to announce that we have received a contract, what role each department will have and the expectations of each employee as it related to this contract.

Describe your firm's capabilities and functionality of your on-line catalog / ordering website.

Brighton Cromwell's system was designed and built utilizing best commercial practices. It was founded on the experience gained from years of electronic ordering with the DoD, and driven by Brighton Cromwell's vision to be the best in the industry. Brighton Cromwell's latest e-commerce platform version provides unprecedented flexibility and integration capabilities designed to meet the DoD needs of today and challenges of the future.

The technology embedded in the GOVBUY platform operates in the cloud. No software installation or downloads are required to access the platform, browse commodities, search for specific items, create carts, order parts, or acknowledge receipt. Once registered, authorized users can access the website via a standard browser, login, and begin requisitioning needed materials.

Operating Characteristics

Built on an MSSQL platform, the web-based front-end provides ordering activities with a fully operational, full-function, 100 percent web-based requisitioning system. The system includes approval workflows, global and custom catalogs, as well as a full Spot Buy interface. The system can be accessed over the Internet using existing infrastructure, or via a phone call connection to a local ISP. The only software required by the end user is a frame-capable browser. No additional programming is required.

The system was designed for decentralized purchasing while maintaining centralized control. Customers can define certain global parameters (e.g. billing options) for all ordering activity locations. Each ordering activity can then define individual procurement preferences and approval hierarchies to match their particular operations. End users must operate within the rules defined by the ordering activity location. End users can initiate and maintain any number of requisitions in various states. Requisitions can be created and submitted in one sitting or re-visited and changed over time.

On-line Catalog Purchasing

AS9120B | ISO 9001:2015 CERTIFIED

Brighton Cromwell's on-line catalogs contain hundreds of thousands of pre-sourced, prenegotiated items. These are ready for immediate purchase and drop-ship delivery. They are arranged by commodity type and sub-categorized for rapid drill-down navigation. The prices displayed to the end user are dynamically calculated based on the contractual requirements with the customer. End users select items from commodity catalogs approved by their ordering activity location. When complete, they submit them for approval. The order is routed to individuals based on the approval rules defined by the ordering activity location. Only after final approval is the order processed for item delivery.

On-Line Spot Buy ("Non Catalog") Purchases

Brighton Cromwell's e-commerce platform provides automated workflow for managing Spot Buy Purchases. The entire Spot Buy workflow is hosted on the Brighton Cromwell e-commerce system. First, the end user enters item specifications and requirements into the e-commerce system. A Brighton Cromwell sourcing expert will research the information available and present ordering options back to the customer.

Describe your company's Customer Service Department (hours of operation, number of service centers, etc.)

Brighton Cromwell's customer service center is located in its New Jersey headquarters. The office operates Monday through Friday from 8:00AM to 7:00PM. These hours allow for better service of our customers on the west coast. Our customer service process and procedures dictate that all customer service requests be addressed within 24 hours of initial contact. The responding customer service representative will have ownership of that customer service issue until complete resolution.

Green Initiatives - As our business grows, we want to make sure we minimize our impact on the Earth's climate. We are taking every step we can to implement innovative and responsible environmental practices throughout NCPA to reduce our carbon footprint, reduce waste, energy conservation, ensure efficient computing and much more. To that effort we ask respondents to provide their companies environmental policy and/or green initiative.

Brighton Cromwell takes its corporate citizenship very seriously. In addition to supporting State and Local community programs Brighton Cromwell has also implemented multiple environmental programs within its offices. In terms of energy conservation, Brighton Cromwell has switched all lighting to compact fluorescent bulbs. These have been proven to use 75 percent less energy than incandescent bulbs, and they last about 10 times longer. This allows Brighton Cromwell to save on energy costs and replacement bulb costs and reduce waste by replacing the bulbs less frequently. Another energy saving initiative enacted by the company is the elimination of screen savers. So instead of a screen saver coming on, each employees monitor is set to power down. We also have installed motion activated lighting in all bathrooms, kitchens and cafeterias, eliminating the lighting of empty rooms and areas.

In its Logistics operations Brighton Cromwell, when contractually allowable, we recycle shipping containers, often using the same shipping container material arrived from our vendor in to ship the material to the end user. In our kitting business, Brighton Cromwell only uses 100% recycled dunnage in the packaging of our kits.

The recent pandemic has also expedited our telecommuting initiative. This allows a rotating pool of employees to work from home, eliminating their commute as well as removing the need for them to use company resource and power.

These initiatives coupled with traditional recycling of Glass, Plastic and Paper make up Brighton Cromwell's Green Program.

Value Added Products and Services

Include any additional products and/or services available that vendor currently performs in their normal course of business that is not included in the scope of the solicitation that you think will enhance and add value to this contract for Region 14 ESC and all NCPA participating entities.

As a contractor that services the defense market Brighton Cromwell can bring some unique capabilities to this SLED market. The Law Enforcement Support Office (LESO) Program, allows for transfer of excess Department of Defense property (equipment) that might otherwise be destroyed to state and local law enforcement agencies across the United States and its territories. Some of the equipment being transferred includes Armored Personnel Carriers such as the Mine Resistant Ambushed Protected (MRAP) and Armored Tactical Vehicles like up-armored High Mobility Military Wheeled Vehicles (HMMWV). These vehicles can pose a problem for State/Local law enforcement agencies trying to repair and maintain these vehicles as they have unique parts and systems that may not be available to the general public. Brighton Cromwell supplies over ten million dollars a year in support of these two vehicles alone and maintains relationships with the vehicle manufacturers as well as their tier one and tier two suppliers. Additionally, Brighton Cromwell maintains an inventory of a variety of maintenance kits for both vehicles as well as consumable items such as filters, brake pads and wheel seals.

Another offering Brighton Cromwell brings is the ability to cross reference any Heavy Duty part number and offer a full list of cross reference options to include OEM and Aftermarket brand. This capability has the potential to save a customer tens of thousands of dollars or more depending on the size of the customer's fleet. Brighton Cromwell's customer support team will work closely with the end customer to find the best part for their specific needs.

In addition to the products offered in Tab 7 Brighton Cromwell has access to over 200 additional vendors that can be added to any customers catalog. Final pricing for these vendors would need to be negotiated on a customer by customer based on projected demand and customer location. A list of these additional vendors is attached. (See Attachment 4)

Additional related products and services respondents provide should also be included in the price proposal.

Brighton Cromwell has also developed it's own product line for its DoD customers. The Brighton Cromwell Technical Center has successfully reverse engineered hundreds of parts for various DoD customers in an effort to reduce costs. To date, Brighton Cromwell's efforts have saved the US taxpayer tens of millions of dollars. Brighton Cromwell will make its Technical Center available to SLED customers and together they can evaluate the situation and determine if reverse engineering a part or group of parts may be the right solution.

Through our partnership with HDATP Brighton Cromwell has a network of over 700 distribution locations and over 400 service facilities throughout North America. The majority of these entities would qualify as a small business in the federal market place. This provides a uniquely large geographic footprint, giving us access to local experts across the country. If needed, Brighton Cromwell would utilize the small businesses and other socioeconomically disadvantaged companies in this network to facilitate any training or hands on customer service. This enables us to provide expert answers to our customer's technical questions quickly and efficiently.

MEMORANDUM FOR Mr. Johnston, BRIGHTON CROMWELL LLC, CAGE 82SX4

SUBJECT: APPROVAL TO ACCESS DLA EXPORT-CONTROLLED DATA

The Defense Logistics Agency (DLA) limits distribution of export-controlled technical data under the control of DLA to DLA suppliers that have an approved US/Canada Joint Certification Program (JCP) certification, and meet the DLA-specific requirements for accessing unclassified export controlled military critical technical data managed by DLA. These requirements are detailed at <https://www.dla.mil/HQ/LogisticsOperations/EnhancedValidation/>.

This memorandum serves as your record that you currently meet the DLA-specific requirements for accessing unclassified export-controlled military critical technical data managed by DLA.

This approval is valid for three years from the date of this letter and is contingent upon your compliance with trade security laws and DLA policy. DLA policy prohibits, inter alia, the downloading of technical data identified as export-controlled from cFolders to locations outside of the United States or its outlying territories without DLA's prior consent. The only exception to this rule is that Canadian firms with active Joint Certification Program (JCP) certificates may download technical data identified as export-controlled to Canada without DLA's prior consent. The use of virtual private networks and other services that mask a user's IP address when accessing cFolders is also prohibited without DLA's prior consent.

After you receive this letter please note it takes up to 3 business days for the DLA systems to update the permission settings. If you are unable to access the data via cFolders after that time, additional assistance will be available via the DLA Enterprise Helpdesk (EHD) at: 1-855-352-0001. Refer to <https://www.dibbs.bsm.dla.mil/Refs/TechData/>. The HQ DLA Data Custodian Team will be unable to respond to any follow-on emails for cFolders access.

Thank you
