

Industry Leader from the Inside Out

GOJO is Now a WBENC-Certified Women's Business Enterprise

GOJO, makers of the PURELL® brand, is now certified as a Women's Business Enterprise by the Women's Business Enterprise National Council (WBENC), the largest certifier of women-owned businesses in the U.S. and a leading advocate for women entrepreneurs.

GOJO Industries, a purpose-driven Family Enterprise, invented PURELL® hand sanitizer more than 30 years ago and is a leading global producer of skin health and hygiene solutions. GOJO invented the first commercial soap dispenser in 1952, and our dispensing technology is engineered with attention to design, sustainability, and functionality. Our portfolio includes the PURELL SOLUTION™ – a complete set of uncompromising hand hygiene and surface products.

Our sustainability commitment includes social, environmental, and economic initiatives. Visit GOJO.com/en/About-GOJO/Corporate-Sustainability or contact your GOJO representative for more information.

Certified by the Women's Business Enterprise Council Ohio River Valley on behalf of WBENC

Certificate number WBE2002640

Valid October 21, 2020 through October 21, 2021

GOJO® products are available on multiple competitively solicited and publicly awarded cooperative contracts through OMNIA Partners. To find your favorite distributor, visit public.omniapartners.com/suppliers/gojo/overview.

OMNIA
PARTNERS