ABOUT JACOBSEN

For more than 100 years, Jacobsen mowers have built a legacy of precision craftsmanship, legendary quality of cut and unmatched expertise in the turf-maintenance industry. Dedicated solely to delivering perfectly groomed turf, Jake's mowers are trusted on some of the finest formal turf areas in the world through our specialist distribution partners.

We have reaffirmed our commitment to quality and product development by relocating the manufacturing of Jacobsen mowers to our Turf International Centre of Excellence in England. This move will enable the company to focus its investments, skill, and improvements in mower production on a single facility and leverage the existing resources and expertise at our UK facility. The plant, which currently builds Jacobsen and Ransomes mowers, was the first manufacturer of motorized lawn mowers in the world and has been in operation for more than 180 years.
