Work-from-home solutions

Quality furniture comes home

As many employees across the nation continue to work off-site, it's becoming more and more evident that makeshift workspaces at the kitchen or dining room table aren't sufficing for the long-term. Employees are looking to maintain productivity while in comfort — with furniture that delivers the same levels of quality, versatility, and ergonomics that they've grown accustomed to in the workplace. Let the ODP Business Solutions™ Workspace Interiors team help.

We'll help you get started

At Workspace Interiors, we realize that implementing a work-from-home program and equipping your remote staff with optimized furniture solutions may be a new process for your organization. We can help, and you won't have to go it alone. To start, it may be helpful to ask yourself the following questions:

What are your goals for this program?

Whether you're focused on the ease of ordering ergonomic solutions or offering good/better/best solutions to your staff, we can help. We can even help you stay within a predetermined budget and meet specific launch dates.

How is purchasing being handled?

This may be the responsibility of your employees or your organization. For example, your staff may be using credit cards, or the entire program may be company-funded. If credit card payments are being used, we have a solution that can be implemented without manual intervention. If the program is company-funded, we can help easily enable end-user registration.

Other questions to consider:

- If your employees are making the purchases, do they have other vendors from which they can select as well?
- How long do you foresee this program being in place?
- Do you have an anticipated number of people participating in the program?

If you're not sure how to answer these questions, your account manager will be happy to chat with you and help you put together a program that's best for you.
