

The strongest supply chain team in the business

You're working to solve tomorrow's big picture while staying focused on all the important details of today. That's no small task, we know. With decades of proven expertise in your industry, Schneider provides the knowledge and methodologies to streamline your supply chain and keep it all running smoothly. It's time to make your transportation network work a whole lot harder for you.

Schneider Supply Chain Management effectively orchestrates the flow of goods, information and payments across your supply chain. Looking for help with only a small piece of the puzzle? We help there, too.

Why Schneider?

Design and engineering

Integrated supply chain technology and business intelligence

Transportation procurement and carrier management

Outsourced logistics

Sole source and promotional services

No one is better at identifying opportunities and delivering ROI. Schneider can immediately bring about improvements in network design and function, PO and inventory management, operational execution and supply chain performance, saving you 5–20% in the first year alone. With help from Schneider, a global energy company cut costs to the tune of $23 million, and an automotive service retail provider realized 15 years of year-over-year savings growth.

---

Together we'll take your supply chain in the right direction.

When you choose Schneider Supply Chain Management, you enjoy every advantage of a dedicated account team averaging 15 years' experience with specialized expertise within your industry.

We move quickly to understand your supply chain. Then begin applying our proprietary, tried-and-true processes plus industry-best technology and analytics to reduce costs, optimize flow and enhance your strategic positioning.

Just as important, we lock arms with you throughout the change-management process to ensure every measure is implemented successfully for breakthrough results.

- Collaborative strategic development
- Provider identification and network design
- Process development and standard quality performance
- Daily operational execution
- Data mining and analysis and continuous improvement

---

Customized solutions, not one-size-fits-all.

We know supply chain requirements, budget, complexity and appetite for change are all important considerations to be weighed. Wherever you are, that's where we'll begin.

---

Put our broad portfolio to work for you.

With Schneider, you get it all. From supply chain management to a transportation network like no other, we stand ready to take on as much or as little as you like.

Let's talk about what Schneider Supply Chain Management can do for you. Email us at solutions@schneider.com to get started.

