Title

February 14, 2022

To our valued suppliers, carriers, customers, and other counterparties,

TACenergy, historically known as Truman Arnold Companies is making an official corporate change to have our legal name and branding match.

In the coming months, the official legal entity name reflected on all paperwork, certificates, and legal documents will soon be TACenergy, LLC. The decades of history we have operated as Truman Arnold Companies (d/b/a TAC Energy) in the petroleum industry makes this step complex, but we felt it was time to have all the pieces fit together under the current brand name – TACenergy.

There will be no change in beneficial ownership, our high-quality financial underpinnings, management, or the services and capabilities we provide. Our commitment to our customers and partners remains our highest priority. The goal is to be aligned in reference to who we are in the market and to make it easier today and with future business to know us under one name – TACenergy, LLC.

To help you be prepared when paperwork requires the new company reference, we wanted you to be the first to know the change was taking place. There are no specific actions required at this time. In fact, we want to emphasize that all business will continue to be conducted under our current legal name, Truman Arnold Companies, until further notice.

We do ask that you consider the impact changing our legal entity will have on your system(s) and inform your accounts payable and receivables departments. We will be providing a new W-9 and Tax ID at the appropriate time, but please let us know any other special requirements you may have to affect this change. The official changeover to the new legal entity name is expected to occur during the 2nd quarter this year, and we will continue to update you on next steps.

Again, we are excited for aligning the name on paperwork and the door as we continue to provide the best supply, ordering, distribution, pricing, sales, accounting, and management systems in the wholesale fuel provider marketplace.

Please note, our name change will not impact our phone numbers, emails, addresses, or employees.

If you have any questions about the required information for change in your system, please reach out to your regular TACenergy contact directly or call us at 800-375-FUEL (3835).

Sincerely,
