

How continuous development builds vital skills

In a changing market, each shift represents a new skill your people need and requires cohesive, rich data aligned, and supportive HR tools.

Modern organizations choose Cornerstone Learning to build talent, maintain compliance, and align people, skills, and content. Built to customize around your organization's unique attributes, we ensure the right training reaches the right individuals at the right time.

Personalized and social learning

Skilling to meet needs is a bottom-up and a top-down approach. Our holistic solution invites employees to share, contribute, and create content in their own vibrant learning community.

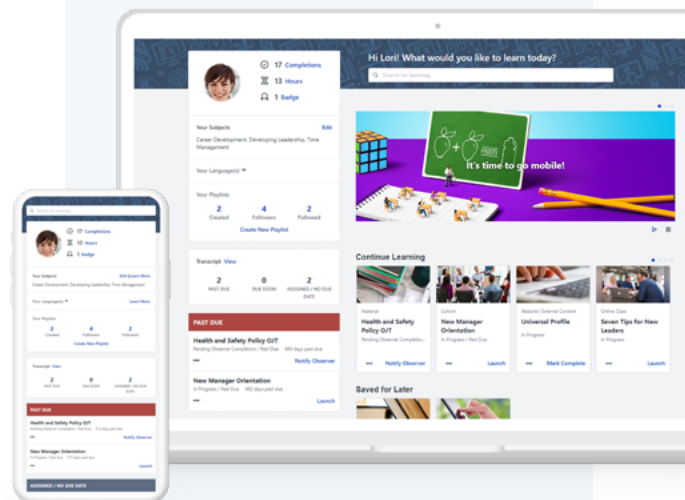

- > Collaboration and creation tools like Playlists, communities and more drive engagement, and a continuous learning culture.
- > Learner Home, the AI-powered learning recommendation tool provides learners fresh and relevant content based on their role, interests, and learning history
- > Powered by hand-picked, modern content, Content Anytime streamlines content libraries.

Scalable compliance and training

Learning is about people, not admin settings. Cornerstone Learning reduces manual tasks and scales initiatives with out-of-the-box and custom reporting. Our dynamic, centralized system with built-in version control, compliance certifications, and mobile capability delivers more efficient compliance initiatives and anticipates future risks based on workforce data analysis.

Increased business value

Through powerful reporting, quickly pivot your learning initiatives to maximize business value and connect learning initiatives to talent goals.

- > Rich reporting capabilities — including a full library of dashboards and custom reports — scheduled and automated for the appropriate audiences.
- > Predictive and diagnostic workforce data analysis to develop, promote, manage, and gauge performance.
- > Recommended training courses based on performance reviews and succession planning that strengthen the ties between learning and performance.

We've evolved with Cornerstone over the years. We're leveraging Cornerstone to position Turner's talent management and development for success."
