

K-12 & Education Language Access Solutions

ULG has a long history providing language access for school districts and state education agencies. We understand the need for quality, so parents and communities have equal access to important notifications, school program information and education materials. Special care is taken to understand the requirements for literacy levels, dialects and cultural sensitivity.

With our broad and deep understanding of ELL/LEP language issues and industry standards, you can be confident your multicultural communications are right the first time. Our simple processes combined with our K-12 language access expertise help reduce costs, eliminate redundancies, and achieve quality feedback from communities.

One Partner For All Your Community's Language Access Needs
