Notes: Vendor may include other notes regarding the contract update here: (attach another page if necessary). WillScot Mobile Mini has begun to evaluate pricing of new modular and storage equipment, starting with New Sales.

With the spike this year in lumber and steel pricing, our manufacturing costs for new buildings is at an all-time high currently making it such that our pricing needs to be re-evaluated. WillScot Mobile Mini is starting with the New Sales, since most volatile and will provide any/all our updates to pricing for the end of the year. For now, we would like to request to change the pricing for a few units with the understanding that we will be send any/all changes for the start of 2023 and will continue to be regularly evaluated and re-assessed to bring costs down when possible. This increase is not caused by the recent hurricane and is impacting all areas/regions but this is an urgent request to be able to fill an increase in demands for agency's that need to purchase new buildings since their current buildings have been destroyed or compromised (so renting is not an option).
